SCHOOL POLICIES

1. Positive Learning Culture

Purpose:

To create and sustain a positive learning culture.

Objective:

The following guidelines and policies are in place in order to secure a positive learning environment which focusses on experiencing success for each participant in Czech language classes. Each teacher will review School Code of Conduct and their Classroom Management Plan with their students.

1.2 Rights Observed (Code of Conduct)

Each participant of Czech School of Seattle has a right to learn in a positive environment as well as a right to safety and dignity regardless of age, color, gender, national or ethnic origin.

Czech School of Seattle will not accept behavior that impairs others from learning, and infringes above stated rights.

Students, teachers and parents are expected to

- use Czech language whenever possible.
- be courteous and polite to others
- follow school guidelines and policies

- abide by classroom management plan

1.3 No Distracting Valuables from home

Students are encouraged to leave any distracting items at home. Teachers are authorized to remove any such object from student's possession and return it to the parent/guardian upon class dismissal.

1.4 Dress Code

Students, parents, teachers, and all volunteers are expected to refrain from wearing any inappropriate slogans, especially advertisements of products or behaviors prohibited to minors.

Students, teachers, and volunteers should wear clean, comfortable, and safe clothing that will not distract from learning.

1.5 Homework and Absences

Homework assignments are crucial for a skill building program that meets once a week. Assigned homework reinforces previous learning and allows students to work at their level of competence. Students are expected to turn in all of their homework and teachers are expected to provide feedback. Homework allows parents to be active participants in students' learning and offers an opportunity to provide teachers with feedback regarding student's involvement and process.

For families that may not be able to volunteer, there is an option to contribute an additional $60.00 per quarter to be paid in check or cash on the first day or last day of each quarter; or to contribute supplies from a school approved wish list in value equal or higher to $60.00 per quarter.

5. Allergies, Medications, Illness, and Injuries

To ensure a safe learning environment and readiness in case of medical need

Objective:

These guidelines are written to ensure that all students, staff and volunteer may enjoy a safe environment. Further these guidelines seek for staff and parents to be ready to act in a prompt, accurate, and organized manner in case of medical emergency to ensure everyone's safety.

5.1 Allergies

- a. It is the responsibility of parents/guardians to state any known allergies on student's registration form.
- b. The Czech Schools of Seattle meets in a nut free facility and is a nut free program. The school will avoid all allergens noted at registration as life-threatening with all possible means.
- c. All other allergies indicated on student registration form as not life-threatening will be avoided whenever possible. Should such allergen be present in any of classroom activities, the teacher will provide a disclaimer for parents at the beginning of program/class.
- d. The school does not provide snacks due to the length of the program and in order to minimize exposure to allergens.

5.2 Medications

The staff and volunteers of Czech School of Seattle will never administer any prescription or over the counter medications, with the exception of rescue medication. Parents/guardians must try to give all medications at home as much as possible. If medication has to be given during school time, it has to be administered by a parent or guardian outside of child's classroom.

5.3 Rescue Medications

- a. Each student that has a potential to have a serious or life-threatening allergic reaction (anaphylaxis) will have an Emergency Action Plan on file. Such plan needs to state the allergen, symptoms of anaphylaxis, specify rescue medication, and emergency contacts. The form needs to be signed by both parent/guardian and a child's medical professional. The Czech School of Seattle has a form available.
- b. Each teacher is required to know the four steps of responding to anaphylaxis. They will: 1. familiarize themselves with the allergies of the students in their class, 2. know what symptoms to watch for, 3. know how to use epinephrine auto injectors, and 4. get emergency medical help right away should an anaphylaxis occur. Student's Emergency Action Plan will always be on hand during school hours.

5.4 Illness

Parents/guardians are asked not to bring their child to school if he or she is ill, has thrown up or has had a fever above 99 F within the last 24 hours. If your child is "not feeling well" during the lesson, we will call you immediately to pick your child up. Parents/guardians are required to pick up their child in a reasonable amount of time once informed.

The Czech School of Seattle considers a child to be ill if they have high temperature and/or another contagious symptom such as, but not limited to, a rash, diarrhea, a sore throat, symptoms of respiratory, gastro-intestinal, eye-infections, head lice, or other sickness. Children with such symptoms should remain at home until symptoms have been treated and fever free for 24 hours.

Should a student's condition require being treated with antibiotics, he or she may participate in the programs of Czech School of Seattle after a minimum of 24 hours since first treatment, provided child is free of fever and other contagious symptoms.

5.5 Injuries

The staff and volunteers of Czech School of Seattle make every effort to ensure the safety of children in schools programs. Unfortunately, minor accidents may occur. Student's teacher will report any such incident at the time of student's dismissal. Each teacher will have a first aid kit on hand.

In case of a serious injury or illness, parent/guardian will be contacted for instructions. Students requiring emergency medical care will be taken by ambulance to the nearest emergency room or hospital. If parent/guardian cannot be reached, the non-parent emergency person indicated on the registration form will be contacted to make medical decisions. It is parent's/guardian's responsibility to keep all contact information updated.

Parents/guardians must email the school at skolicka@czechschoolseattle.org so teachers can be ready for additional students.

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

Class sizes

A small teacher to student ratio is one of the highest values of the Czech School of Seattle. Volunteers from the Czech community are welcome and are intrinsic to the school's mission. In order to secure a welcoming learning environment, the maximum size of any classroom is 15 students. A minimum number of students to open a classroom is 5. In case of 4 enrolled students, parents may select to divide the fifth tuition among themselves to keep the class open.

Student placement

The Czech School Director of Education is available to discuss each child's placement, or answer any questions parents/guardians may have regarding offered programs. Contact Director of Education at skolicka@czechschoolseattle.org. Students are, however, placed into classrooms at the discretion of teachers and the Director of Education. In case of disagreement concerning the appropriate placement, the Director of Education will make the final decision to always assure the best use of school resources and the best interest of students and their parents/guardians.

Classroom Age Limits

The age limits are carefully selected to reflect both the student peer group and the abilities required for successful participation in the class. However, teachers and the Director of Education will gladly discuss each child's individual circumstance.

The pre-school class may be open to children aged 2 years old, based on individual evaluation. Exceptions will be granted based on space availability, child readiness, sibling registration, and parent/guardian volunteer participation. Please inquire at skolicka@czechschoolseattle.org.

Language Proficiency

The Czech School of Seattle greatly desires to accommodate all students. Often, diversity in language proficiency in the same classroom is not a deterrent; instead, it can be a great tool in developing students' language as well as social skills. Parents/guardians are encouraged to discuss each child's personality and learning styles with the Director of Education or respective teachers. Initial contact can be made via skolicka@czechschoolseattle.org. It is the school's goal to work with parents/guardians to find the best fit for each child.

Discipline

The Czech School of Seattle believes that children and youth find security and direction where there is consistent adult guidance and discipline in the spirit of caring and acceptance. Disciplinary techniques, such as offering choices, problem solving, redirecting, natural and logical consequences, taking a break and positive reinforcement help children internalize rules and become self-directed in their behavior. There will be no corporal punishment allowed.
